ABOUT BART CHARTER SCHOOL

Committed to building a diverse and inclusive community of teachers and learners and to advancing its mission to prepare its students for college and a lifetime of learning, BART is a community of curious and creative students, devoted and innovative teachers and staff members, and families dedicated to the success of their children. The student body is richly diverse, each member with an important personal story. The School is built around a makerspace, and its academic program comprises an intense academic core curriculum enriched by ample elective courses in the arts and technology as well as opportunities for students to pursue independent creative and scholarly projects. Before they graduate, BART students must pass college courses, take and pass collegiate-skills courses each year, complete an internship within the region, and participate in a rigorous program of mock interviews, portfolio presentations, and annual science fairs.

The success enjoyed by BART’s students and the School as a whole results from a school culture characterized by the pursuit of excellence and
- conviction that each student can succeed in college, regardless of background or previous school performance;
- belief that more time for learning, through BART’s longer school day and longer school year, will improve learning;
- an emphasis on effort and reflection as keys to students’ growth; and
- a strong, intimate community with supports in place for all members to reach, to take intellectual chances, and to achieve remarkable things.
