

Internet Resources for Parents

California Association for the Gifted (CAG): Articles, opportunities, and information on gifted education for teachers, parents and students. <http://www.cagifted.org/>

National Association for Gifted Children (NAGC): A compiled list of State Gifted Education Association websites as well as information on Gifted and Talented at the national level. <http://www.nagc.org>

Hoagies' Gifted Education Page: Provides a comprehensive list of international and US educational resources. <http://www.hoagiesgifted.org>

SENG: focuses primarily on the adults in the lives of gifted children, helping them to identify giftedness in children and providing guidance, information and resources that will help children come to understand and accept their unique talents. <http://www.sengifted.org>

GT World: An on-line support community for parents and others interested in supporting and nurturing GATE. <http://www.gtworld.org/>

The Center for Gifted Studies (Western Kentucky Univ.): In June, 1989, the Board of Regents at Western Kentucky University created "The Center for Gifted Studies" as a unit within the university, providing an umbrella organization for services for gifted children, parents, and teachers. <http://www.wku.edu/gifted/>

Educator to Educator: Educator to Educator develops materials to support teacher power, which the company sees as the force of a teacher's art and ability in making the difference in the learning process. Curriculum materials are directed toward teaching teachers efficient and sound approaches, addressing their needs and concerns, and supporting their endeavors. Educator to Educator books are used by educators from hundreds of districts in 35 states across the U.S. Visit the website for a complete listing of titles and services.
<http://www.ed2ed.com>

Family Education: Providing information on Gifted and other Special Educational needs.
<http://www.familyeducation.com>

Eduhound: A prescreened directory of K-12 Educational Links. A great starting point to find all the very best educational web sites, resources, lesson plans, libraries, webquests, and other reference materials. <http://www.eduhound.com/>

The College Board: College Entrance Examination Board and Educational Testing Service web site. <http://www.collegeboard.org/>

College Edge: A guide to college choices, SAT tests, scholarships, financial aid, and online applications. <http://www.embark.com/>

Virtual School for the Gifted: An online community, where courses are taught and students can learn regardless of age, gender and geography. <http://www.vsg.edu.au/>

Great Schools Net: A Comprehensive Guide with up-to-date information on all 8,000 K-12 California public schools! <http://www.greatschools.net/>

AskERIC: A personalized Internet-based service providing education information to teachers, librarians, counselors, administrators, parents, and anyone interested in education throughout the United States and the world. It began in 1992 as a project of the ERIC Clearinghouse on Information and Technology and is now, with the ERIC Clearinghouse, a component of the Information Institute of Syracuse at Syracuse University. Today, AskERIC encompasses the resources of the entire ERIC system and beyond, using the subject expertise of the 16 ERIC Clearinghouses to respond to your education requests. <http://ericir.syr.edu>

Virtual School for the Gifted: An online community where courses are taught and students can learn regardless of age, gender and geography. <http://www.vsg.edu.au/>

Educational Testing Service: Provides information about required and optional testing as preparation for college entrance. <http://www.ets.org/>

Imagine: Opportunities and Resources for Academically Talented Youth a magazine for gifted students in grades 7-12. <http://www.jhu.edu/gifted/imagine/>

Heron Publishing: Devoted to providing specialized tools and materials to help teachers, parents and students prepare for college and gain the skills that will last far beyond the collegiate experience. Also products for adults who wish to improve their ability to learn, comprehend and retain information. <http://www.heronpub.com/>

The Concord Review: The only quarterly journal in the world for the academic research papers of high school students of history. Since 1987 they have published 517 exemplary essays (average 5,000 words, with endnotes and bibliography) by secondary students from 41 states and 33 other countries on a wide variety of historical topics, ancient and modern, domestic and foreign. Their website now has 51 sample essays, including all of the Emerson Prize winners from the last eight years, a topic list for the first 46 issues, a subscription form ($40 a year for four issues), a submission form (form to accompany essays), news about their $3,000 Emerson Prizes and other information. Free samples available. <http://www.tcr.org/>

The Roeper Review: Published by The Roeper School in Michigan, the Roper Review applies the highest standards of peer review journalism to cover a broad range of issues - for professionals who work with teachers and psychologists, and for professionals who work directly with gifted and talented children and their families. It emphasizes both the cognitive and the emotional. <http://www.roeperreview.org/>

School Wise Press: A school information service and publisher that creates, distributes and resells books, profiles, rankings and reports about schools (K-12) for parents. Current geographic emphasis is California. <http://www.schoolwisepress.com/>

The Connie Belin and Jacqueline N. Blank International Center for Gifted Education and Talent Development. <http://www.uiowa.edu/~belinctr>

The Gifted Development Center, Linda Silverman, Director. A resource center for developmentally advanced children and their parents and for gifted individuals of all ages. <http://www.gifteddevelopment.com/>

Counseling the Gifted: Andrew C. Mahoney, M.S., L.P.C., L.M.F.T. Counseling the gifted. Establishing identity. Finding self. A web site for all ages. <http://www.counselingthegifted.com/>

Tech4Learning: Tech4Learning provides products, information, and services that enhance student learning, supporting educators with tools to apply and integrate effective educational technology. <http://www.tech4learning.com/>

Families of the Talented and Gifted: Parent resource with articles and information of giftedness. <http://www.TAGFAM.org>

Gifted Books: Parent resource with supplies, books and materials for gifted students.

<http://www.giftedbooks.com>

Brains.org The website for people involved in the education and parenting of brains of all ages. Lots of recent research on the brain. <http://www.brains.org>

BrainConnection: a website that provides recent brain research, parent tips, and brain teasers.

<http://www.brainconnection.com>

The Davidson Institute for the Gifted: a full service website that has a library dedicated to giftedness and opportunities for parents and students. <http://www.ditd.org/>