

Kind Coins for Imagination Library

Imagination library is a program started by Dolly Parton to put books in the hands of every child in Tennessee, no matter who they are. By mailing high quality books directly to their homes, she hopes to inspire these children with the seeds of knowledge from an early age. Her own parents couldn't read, but from an early age she knew she wanted to be something more and get out of the poverty she grew up surrounded by. Many of our students grew up enjoying these books and we want to give back and help others continue to enjoy them.
