

Goal: To have all students in school everyday

- to increase student success in school
- to increase social interactions & positive relationships
- to increase chances of graduating from high school

Ways to help your child get <5 absences this school year:

- set out clothes and backpacks the night before to get out the door easier in the morning
- get to bed at a reasonable time each night
- schedule doctor's appointments after early release Wednesdays (1:30 or later) or on PD days
- schedule vacations during school breaks and holiday weekends

Classes who have perfect attendance may earn:

- extra recess time
- Navigator pride goodies
- class "parties"
- homework "break" passes

As Superintendent Kishimoto stated in her back to school letter, attendance is extremely important to a student's success. We will be tracking student attendance weekly. Parent communication will begin once a student reaches 5 absences during the school year.

It's our goal to have every student in school every day.

We're encouraging families and students to not miss more than 5 days of school the entire year.

- Students who are on track will be recognized quarterly.
- Classes will be recognized and rewarded for reaching attendance milestones set by the school.

If your children are not here, we can't teach them; and what they miss on a daily basis cannot be made up through worksheets.

This also includes coming to school on time. Even a few minutes late every day forces a student to rush to catch up and does not provide him/her with the needed time to prepare for the day's events.

Help your child start each day successfully by providing enough time to get ready in the morning, allowing enough time to get to school without rushing, and to allow time for socializing with friends and preparing supplies.

Aloha families! Join us in our campaign to get students to school every day and on time!

I < 5!
