I, as well as all of you, are being overwhelmed with emotions from this weekend. I want all of you to know that you are loved and that you are important. No matter how things were left when school was still in session, I want you to know that I care deeply for you all. Doesn’t matter how much you tested my patience….YOU ARE LOVED! Please be careful out there and please stay home if you can. I can not and will not tell you what to do with your lives but please make sure that you always make it back to a safe place to see the next sunrise.

This week’s assignment will be for you to check-in with me with a Google Doc. I need to know that you are ok, in order for me to be ok. These will be the steps for the entire week.

Step 1: Go to the CLASSWORK section in Google Classroom and scroll down to the section that’s labeled REMOTE LEARNING PROJECTS.

Step 2: Click on the Check-in with Ms. Barba assignment and create a Google Doc. In this doc, please share a few sentences about how you are feeling about the last few days or in general. I want to acknowledge your feelings and lend you an open ear. There will be no judgement. You have the right to your feelings.

Step 3: Write freely and I will respond through a private comment. Submit as soon as possible.
This will be due by June 8th at midnight.

*This is also the last day to submit any late work for the semester. SENIORS: My neighborhood was looted and burned. I am behind in grading your late work due to this. Please be patient as I protect my neighborhood and get caught up on your grades.
