

Alumni Proud

The possibilities for an Our Lady Queen of Angels graduate are endless ...

Our faith-based academics lead our graduates on a path of continued success.

Our ANGELS continue to make us proud.

Louisa Forney, OLQA Graduate 2014

Throughout her time at OLQA, Louisa kept a rigorous dance schedule at Dmitri Kulev Classical Ballet Academy after school and on weekends. In the summer of 2014, after graduation from OLQA, she completed a Bolshoi Ballet Academy summer intensive in Connecticut, sponsored by the Russian American Foundation. She was invited back in the summer of 2015 to the New York City Bolshoi Ballet Academy intensive. Upon completion of the summer program, she received an invitation to study year round at the Bolshoi Ballet Academy in Moscow, Russia. Louisa has resided in Moscow since the age of 15, and is set to graduate from the program in June, 2018. She is one of a handful of Americans studying in Moscow, with only one other American in her level. The combination of her ballet training and discipline, which was fostered during her years at OLQA, has served her well. She is currently researching universities in the United States where she can continue her dancing and earn her college degree, as well.

"HOME IS WHERE THE HEART IS" rings very true when I think of our family's experience at Our Lady Queen of Angels School. My husband and I had the great honor of having our son and daughter both attend Our Lady Queen of Angels School from Pre-school thru 8th grade. OLQA quickly became our "home" and although our children have moved on the friendships we all made remain strong today.

Faith, tradition and the basic belief to value each other are woven into every conversation, subject, and activity at OLQA School, which in turn helps to build confidence, character and empathetic young adults.

Our Lady Queen of Angels School was truly our home and where our heart remains still today!

— Amy and Jon Rowland

As parents of two OLQA graduates, we can share that the transition to high school was seamless. From academics to leadership roles, OLQA did a great job preparing them to take active roles on campus.

Christian ministry was a natural fit coming from a strong faith-filled junior high experience.

Overall, OLQA is a strong place for family, faith and high school preparation.

— Cindi and Norm Morales