

TRANSFER REASSIGNMENT

Classified employees may be reassigned to work and to work stations as needed by the chief district administrator, his/her designee, or by the employee's immediate supervisor.

Reassignment means assigning work or work stations at the regular work site different from the regular work and/or work station of the employee, but without change of classification or average regular hours worked.