Hackettstown's Tiger Pride Preschool is dedicated to Evidenced Based Programming

Inclusive preschool classrooms are in the best interest of all young children: including children with disabilities results in greater empathy and acceptance of differences among all children and in improved academic, social, and behavioral outcomes for children with disabilities. (NAEYC, 2017)

Advances in neuroscience and research have helped to demonstrate the benefits of quality early education for young children and that the early years are a critical period in children's learning and development, providing the necessary foundation for more advanced skills. (U.S. Government, 2015)

Hackettstown Public School District Leaders in Preschool Education

The Hackettstown Public Schools Inclusion Preschool Program is founded on the belief that young children, regardless of background or abilities, should be nurtured and challenged in an environment that encourages the expression of ideas, curiosity, spontaneity, enthusiasm, and the joy of learning. We believe that all children benefit from being grouped heterogeneously, making it possible for children to learn from one another.
