What can you do at home?

Together, the home, school and community share the responsibility for developing good citizens.

Parents, teachers and students must collaborate to maintain a safe learning environment. Parents can help by doing the following:

- Review the Mission Road Expectations Matrix with your child and post it in your home.
- Keep in touch with your child's teacher.
- Encourage your child to use proper language.
- Practice caring phrases with your child such as "Thank you," "Please," "Excuse me" and "I'm sorry."
- Be a contributing member of your child's school. Volunteer, attend PTO meetings and other school activities.
