

IEPs and 504s: The Basics and Beyond

The Special Needs Committee is offering a free information event with three different break-out sessions about IEP's and 504's. All three sessions will begin with a short presentation and will be followed by a question and answer period.

Presenters for the evening will be Advocates Todd Gary and Marilyn Lucey from the Special Education Advocacy Group, and Education & Special Education Attorney Kristin Springer.

Session A: Is your child struggling? Wondering if (s)he qualifies for Special Education or Section 504 accommodations? We'll discuss what 504 plans and IEPs provide, how they differ, eligibility, and how to access each (including assessments and Child Find).

Session B: Your child receives Special Education, but you would like to be a more effective IEP team member. Learn how to ensure an effective IEP for your child through appropriate baselines, robust goals, timely progress reports, and FAPE.

Session C: Your child has received services for years and although you're familiar with the basics, you're still dealing with a few challenges. Topics such as Endrew F./FAPE, behavior, discipline, IEEs, collaboration and conflict resolution, and due process may be discussed.

Parents are encouraged to come with questions. Ample time will be allotted for questions and answers.
