HANDBOOK REMINDERS

"Hey, a rule is a rule, and without rules there's chaos." — Cosmo Kramer

Please remember if the second bell has rung at morning carpool and there are no teachers standing outside, you will need to walk your children inside and sign them in. For safety reasons, please do not drop them off if no one is outside to make sure they get into the building.

The first-grade classes have been learning about the weather and how it affects us. They recently toured the Jackson National Weather Service Station where they got to meet a hydrologist and meteorologist and learn about their jobs.
