OVERVIEW

A comprehensive student activities program is a vital component of an effective high school. In order to promote meaningful co-curricular and extracurricular activities, Annapolis High School encourages student involvement in as many activities as possible.

Since student activities are an extension of the school day, school rules, policies and discipline procedures apply to any activity that is sponsored by the high school.

Student activities are intended to:

1. encourage loyalty to class and school
2. build a unity of school spirit
3. allow student leadership an opportunity to grow and develop
4. have a fun day on campus
5. permit students to work together with their own leaders
6. permit students to show their different talents

At Annapolis High School, the following co-curricular/ extracurricular activities are offered:
