ROWLAND HIGH SCHOOL
FAMILY, CAREER AND COMMUNITY LEADERS OF AMERICA (FCCLA)
MEET WITH STATE LEGISLATORS

Rowland High School students, Ashley Leung (Senior), Diane Chen (Junior), Sophia Htay (Junior), and Cecilia Wang (Junior) participated in the Capitol Leadership Experience in Sacramento on February 10-12 where they observed the Senate and Assembly committee hearings and floor sessions. In addition, the girls met with state legislators and staff to discuss the importance of Family and Consumer Sciences education and the career technical students organization Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA).

FCCLA has over 4,500 members in California alone and approximately one-quarter million members throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, and the District of Columbia. The organization, which functions as part of the Family and Consumer Sciences (FCS) Education Program of the California Department of Education, helps students develop occupational, leadership and citizenship skills.

Students from throughout the state met with their own legislators and staff to explain that Family and Consumer Sciences education provides skills that may be used to prepare for higher education or to enter the workforce right after high school. Involvement in FCCLA also teaches young people to be better parents, to be financially responsible, and to prepare to contribute to society as adults.
AP ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE VISITS THE AQUARIUM

Mrs. Christina Bryant’s AP Environmental Science and IB Biology classes took a trip to the Aquarium of the Pacific to learn about sea life and the amount of dissolved oxygen that is present off of our coast. The trip began with a short tour of the aquarium featuring the local fish and sea life. The students then proceeded to the aquarium’s laboratory. While in the lab the students took a walk down to the dock and gathered samples of seawater from different depths in the bay. After collecting their samples they went back to the lab and analyzed the amount of oxygen that was present in the water. The group had the opportunity to perform multiple tests to determine if the water was suitable for fish and other sea creatures. After the lab was over the students were given time to learn about the various animals that inhabit the aquarium as well as the local animals in Long Beach.

Bonjour Messieurs et Mesdames

The RHS French Club banquet at Taps in Brea was a great success. On December 15th, 32 students attended the banquet and tried French food that was created especially for the them. French Teacher Rola Doudi stated that the students were on time, nicely dressed and represented Rowland as perfect ladies and gentlemen. They were served either Salade Nicoise or soup as hors d’oeuvre, Coq au vin or Fish Papillotte as main entrée and Crème Brûlée, for dessert.

Taps serves Créole food, which is a mixture of African and French food and is typical of Louisiana, French territories and Islands in South America. Louisiana was named after the French King Louis XIV and used to be a French colony. Louisiana was sold to the United States government by Napoleon in 1803. The U.S. paid a total sum of 15 million dollars (around 4 cents per acre) for the Louisiana territory. The clubs’ next event is Mardi Gras which is celebrated on March 3rd this year.

Registration Information 2019-20

Registering for next year’s classes began in February. Registration will go through March. This year students select classes online through their Aeries Portal and then meet one-on-one with their counselor to review the classes, review graduation status and in some cases sign up for summer school classes. Even though registration is online now, students must still turn in to their registration form with a parent signature.

Reminder Service Available

Receiving reminders on your phone is only a text message away. Counselors use a free service called Remind to send reminder text messages to students and parents. Anyone can join to receive text messages; it’s free and private. Standard text message rates apply. Each grade level has their own group that students and parents can join. All messages will be sent by the RHS counseling department and your phone number will not be shared with anyone at any time. All groups use the text number 81010. See below for the text groups.

The faculty has been advised that if the conversation requires more than five minutes, a follow-up conversation should be scheduled. Please bring a copy of your student’s report card to expedite locating teachers.
