Clubs

If a student has a particular interest not covered by school curriculum, he or she may find what they're looking for in school clubs. Students with common interests or talents can join with a faculty advisor to create activities. For example, past clubs have brought together baseball card collectors, skiers, debaters, people interested in a particular culture or faith, and poets. We encourage students to find constructive voluntary activities which enhance their lives and the life of the school.

Activities

- Link Crew
- California Scholarship Federation (CSF)
- Cheerleading
- Drama
- FFA (Future Farmers of America)
- Interact
- Key Club
- MEChA
- Mock Trial
- Sports Clubs
- E-Sports
- We the People (Constitution Competition)
- Journalism
- Yearbook

Rallies

School spirit is displayed with exuberance at our school rallies. The rallies usually include class competitions, games, music, skits and a large dose of pep for our athletic teams. A favorite tradition is the exchange rally with long-time school rival Wasco High. At that rally, even the opposing team and its accompanying pep squad is introduced. Parents and guests enjoy this annual event.

Title 1

Title 1 helps the following students:

- Low achieving students attending the highest poverty schools.
- Limited English proficient students
- American Indian students
- Migrant students
- Neglected, delinquent, or at-risk youth
- Students with disabilities
- Young children who need reading assistance
- Providing healthy well-balanced meals throughout the day

Migrant Education

Shafter's programs help migratory children overcome educational disruptions, cultural and language barriers, social isolation, various health-related problems, and other factors that might inhibit the ability of the children to do well in school.
