Interview wit Mr. Kubes

Mr.Kubes wanted to become a principle because that's the way he can help the teacher and the teachers can help the students and that he can change their lives.He wanted to help kids because when he was small, the teachers helped him and he wants to bring that back.He had worked in Alliance Ready College Middle #5 for three years.The good thing about being a principle is that he gets to see us everyday and help us all the time.The worst thing about being a principle is the longs hours and it's about 11 hours everyday. When he was a teacher he never had a grade that was hard to control.His childhood dream job was to be an FBI profiler.

History

Dinosaurs had thrived in the warm temperatures and mild weather of the Mesozoic era. All of a sudden, the Earth became much colder and darker. Plants died and food became scarce. All the dinosaurs—except for the ancestors of modern birds—and three quarters of the creatures living on Earth went extinct. Dinosaurs walked the earth for over 165 million years.When the dinosaurs died, so did forests -- and tree-dwelling birds. Summary: Sixty-six million years ago, the world burned. An asteroid crashed to Earth with a force one million times larger than the largest atomic bomb, causing the extinction of the dinosaurs. Scientists who identified the newly identified species, Nyasasaurus parringtoni, believe it may have been the first dinosaur ever to have lived. Most plant-eating dinosaurs had peg-like or broad, flat teeth designed for snipping or stripping vegetation. While the diet of individual herbivores varied, included a combination of leaves, twigs, and seeds — found in high treetops or close to the ground.
