

SUBMITTED PHOTO Addison Independent

All in our places...

... with bright shining faces! Three preschoolers sit in chairs, eager to start their first day of school at the Addison School District 4 Early Learning Center. More photos from the first day of preschool inside.

SUBMITTED PHOTOS Addison Independent

Above: A preschooler is ready to walk into school with teacher Laura Romero, as his mother blows one last goodbye kiss. Right: This little girl is wearing a perfect shirt for the first day of school – it reads: Hello Preschool!

Preschoolers enjoy first day of school

More than 160 of Addison School District 4's youngest students had their first day of school this week on Monday, Aug. 27. The large majority of preschool students attend the Addison Early Learning Center with one additional class being located at Army Trail Elementary School. Students posed for dozens of photos, gave hugs to family members and then walked into school ready for a great year of learning ahead.

