Dear Parents:

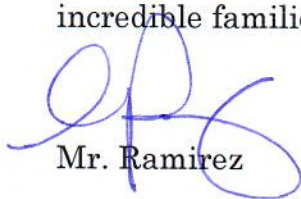

As promised, this is second letter regarding changes in our school's Report Cards, which will be available on Gradelink beginning November 27, 2018. Please contact the office if you are not able to access your Gradelink account in-order for you to view the report card.

In preparation for Parent Teacher Conferences all of our students today received a sample of the new report card for their grade level. Please be sure to ask them for this revised Report Card. You should find attached to the report card, a Q & A handout about Standard Based Grading.

During your Parent Teacher Conferences your teacher will help explain the new report card and the transition to Standard Based Grading. Each subject area will have a grade associated with that subject. Under each subject you should find subgrades that are associated to the standards. The subgrade breakdown will correlate with the grade received in the class. So, if a child is receiving an A in Math the subgrades may show the standards MASTERED (M) or NEAR MASTERY (N) to justify the A. Likewise, if a child receives a C in Math the subgrades will identify the standards that need the most attention. This information will help the teacher and parent identify how best to assist the student moving forward.

My hope is that through this two letter series, I have provided valuable information and insight to help prepare for your Parent Teacher Conference. Please feel free to ask your teacher questions as they are prepared to explain. I encourage everyone to make their best effort to attend their child(ren)'s conferences. Your participation is vital to your child(ren)'s educational success.

I wish everyone a restful and peaceful Thanksgiving. May the Lord bless all of our incredible families!

Mr. Ramirez
