

JROTC

NAVAL SCIENCE 1

To introduce Cadets to the meaning of citizenship, the elements of leadership, and the value of scholarship in attaining life goals; engender a sound appreciation for the heritage and traditions of America, with recognition that the historically significant role of sea power will be important in America's future, develop in each cadet a growing sense of pride in his/her organization, associates, and self. These elements are pursued at the fundamental level. Topics include introduction to NJROTC, Naval History through 1815, Health Education, First Aid, and Drugs, Alcohol, and Tobacco Abuse Prevention. A student will earn 1.0 credit upon successful completion of both these courses.

NAVAL SCIENCE 2

Builds on the general introduction in Naval Science 1 to further develop the traits of citizenship and leadership in Cadets, introduce Cadets to technical areas of naval science, and engender a sound appreciation for the heritage and traditions of America, with recognition that the historically significant role of sea power will be important in America's future, and develop in each Cadet a growing sense of pride in his/her organization, associates and self. Topics include Naval History 1815-Present Day, Leadership Skills, Oceanography, Astronomy and Meteorology. A student will earn 1.0 credit upon successful completion of both these courses.

NAVAL SCIENCE 3

Broaden the understanding of Cadets in the operative principles of military leadership, the concept and significance of teamwork, the intrinsic value of good order and discipline in the accomplishment of objectives, the fundamentals of American democracy, and to expand their understanding of naval academic subjects. Topics include National Strategy, Sea Power and Naval Operations, Leadership, and Navy Department Organization. A student will earn 1.0 credit upon successful completion of both these courses.

NAVAL SCIENCE 4

This course is focused solely on practical leadership. The intent is to assist the Senior in understanding leadership and improving their leadership skills by putting them in positions of leadership, under supervision, then helping them analyze the reasons for their varying degrees of success through the year. Classroom activities include seminars, reading assignments, classroom presentations, and practical work with younger Cadets. A student will earn 1.0 credit upon successful completion of both these courses.