The new staff hail from across Oregon, and as far away as Hawaii, Florida, Colorado and Texas. At the breakfast, the new staff were presented with gift bags with coupons and items donated from local businesses. Donations to the “Stuff the Bus” school supply drive were also showcased at the breakfast, including more than 150 new backpacks and items such as notebooks and Kleenex. This year, KURY Radio coordinated the annual charity drive to help students and teachers in need of supplies. Sharon Tovey of KURY Radio presented Superintendent Sean Gallagher with a check for $1,300 from the “Stuff the Bus” 2016 campaign at the breakfast.

The first day of school for new students was Tuesday, Sept. 6.
