

Food Allergies in the Classroom

We have many safeguards in place at Stony Hill School to protect our students with life threatening food allergies. We're asking that you take time to read the information below to help you understand the strategies we use to keep every student happy and healthy during the school day. Please read to following guidelines:

- No nut products in nut free/safe classrooms during Snack time.
- Children can eat what they want during lunchtime but please remind your children that if they have cold lunch that might contain nuts or peanuts they are asked not to sit in the nut free zone/table in the cafeteria and to wash hands after eating.
- Please remind your children the importance of handwashing throughout the school day. This can help prevent cross contamination and illnesses too.
- The following list are classrooms with students who require Epipens to be kept at school due to food allergies.
