

Black Ships Before
Troy, by Rosemary
Sutcliff

Over the summer, we hope you will enjoy reading this book, a retelling of Homer's Iliad by an award-winning author.

While reading, please annotate as you've done all year—use post-its so you can find your notes for discussion. As part of annotating, look up references to Greek myths that you don't know or remember. You should also develop 4 text-based questions that will open up interesting conversations. Be ready to show us your annotations and questions when you come back to school.

Black Ships Before
Troy, by Rosemary
Sutcliff

Over the summer, we hope you will enjoy reading this book, a retelling of Homer's Iliad by an award-winning author.

While reading, please annotate as you've done all year—use post-its so you can find your notes for discussion. As part of annotating, look up references to Greek myths that you don't know or remember. You should also develop 4 text-based questions that will open up interesting conversations. Be ready to show us your annotations and questions when you come back to school.

Black Ships Before
Troy, by Rosemary
Sutcliff

Over the summer, we hope you will enjoy reading this book, a retelling of Homer's Iliad by an award-winning author.

While reading, please annotate as you've done all year—use post-its so you can find your notes for discussion. As part of annotating, look up references to Greek myths that you don't know or remember. You should also develop 4 text-based questions that will open up interesting conversations. Be ready to show us your annotations and questions when you come back to school.

