

HELP US FIND OUR SUPERHEROES

Every year, the Huntsman Awards Committee encourages students, classroom parents, colleagues and supervisors to nominate the state's most talented public school teachers, administrators, volunteers and special education teachers for the Huntsman Education Awards. By celebrating these superheroes of Utah's public schools, the awards seek to inspire current educators and to rekindle interest in the teaching profession among young people.

Fast facts about the Huntsman Education Awards:

Eleven winners will be selected

Winners receive $10,000 and are celebrated at an awards ceremony

All schools and districts throughout the state of Utah are invited to participate

This year the nomination process is entirely online

Nominations are due by March 15, 2019

Enclosed you will find posters that you can hang in your school to spread awareness about this year's Huntsman Education Awards.

You know your school better than anyone — you'll know the best place to put these posters to capture the attention of students, classroom parents, colleagues and supervisors and encourage them to nominate the state's most talented public school educators for the Huntsman Education Awards.

With your help to get the word out about the Huntsman Education Awards, we think we can shine a light on the hidden heroes of Utah's public schools!

If you have any questions, please call the Huntsman Education Awards at (801) 584-5799 or visit www.huntsmaneducationawards.com to learn more.

Sincerely,
The Huntsman Education Awards Committee

huntsmaneducationawards.com