

USC Shoah Foundation Leadership Workshop

ACTION AND VALUES

Presented by

USC Shoah
Foundation

THE WILLIAM P. LAUDER
JUNIOR INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

USC Shoah Foundation is looking for 40 students about to enter 7th – 12th grades in the Southern California area who are interested in participating in a leadership workshop. The program provides a dynamic and unique learning opportunity to engage with testimonies—personal stories—from survivors and witnesses of genocide to develop their own voice.

LOCATION

USC Shoah Foundation
University of Southern California, Los Angeles, CA

DATES

June 17-21, 2019

Sessions will be held from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm*

*session times may change to accommodate local area field trips

For questions about the 2019 Action and Values Leadership Workshop, contact us at iwitness@usc.edu.

Apply today at http://bit.ly/uscsf_workshop2019

Through this program, participants will have the opportunity to:

- Develop an understanding of the power of storytelling
- Define and recognize personal values
- Cultivate confidence and courage to be an upstander
- Deepen proficiency in digital literacy and improve communication skills

Through these activities, workshop participants will think about what it means to be a responsible participant in civil society as they develop the knowledge, skills and confidence to believe they have a role in creating positive change in their own lives and communities.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: APRIL 29, 2019