Seniors stage one last food drive

The Class of 2019 spent the past week on their final community service project: A massive food drive designed to ensure that children won't go hungry during the summer months.

Unlike during the school year, children in low-income families will not have access to affordable meals during summer. Seniors said they wanted to change that.

St. Joseph students in all grades donated everything from boxes of Ritz Crackers to packs of Ramen Noodles, fruit bars, breakfast cereals and popular snacks.

To help generate interest across all grade levels, the seniors staged a competition. The grade that collected the most items for the food drive would receive a free dress day on Monday, May 13. The winners: Juniors and seventh-graders.

It's not too late to help make this successful food driven even better, If you have boxed goods and other food items you would like to donate, please drop them off at the front desk. The final day to participate is Monday, May 13.

Congratulations seniors on a job well done,
