

The Columbian Exchange

Graphic Organizer

Name: _____

In the years following Columbus' voyages to the Americas, the world witnessed an unprecedented permanent exchange of people, products, and ideas known as the Columbian Exchange. You are to use the Wikipedia article on the Columbian Exchange and any other online resources you find helpful in order to note significant exchanges of animals, plants, populations, technology, culture, and ideas that took place during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Your general goal should be to come up with at least three (3) entries for each box, but you will realize when this will not be possible. It is best to leave this to your judgment in order to encourage thorough research on your part.

This will be part of your assignments that you will turn in on the first day of class.
Your responses are to be handwritten – NOT TYPED (i.e., cut and pasted).

| | New World to Old --> | <-- Old World to New |
|----------------------------|----------------------|----------------------|
| Animals | | |
| Plants | | |
| Populations | | |
| Technology | | |
| Culture & Ideas | | |
| Diseases | | |

Other Sources Consulted (no set citation format – just be descriptive enough so that I can find them):