

BRONX*Times*

April 26 – May 2, 2019

NYISE Science Fair Showcase

A FEW OF THE EXPERIMENTS INCLUDE: SHOWCASING ROBOTIC ARMS TO COMPARE ITS FLEXIBILITY, CAPABILITY AND CHALLENGES TO A HUMAN ARM; STIMULATING THE NAVIGATION OF A FISH USING A FISH ROBOT; AND TESTING A SOLAR FAN FOR VARIOUS APPLICATIONS

By: Robert Wirsing

More than 200 pre-school to high school students with visual impairments, emotional challenges and developmental delays showcased their science experiments at the New York Institute for Special Education's annual science fair on Wednesday, April 17 inside the school's gymnasium.