Go To Resource

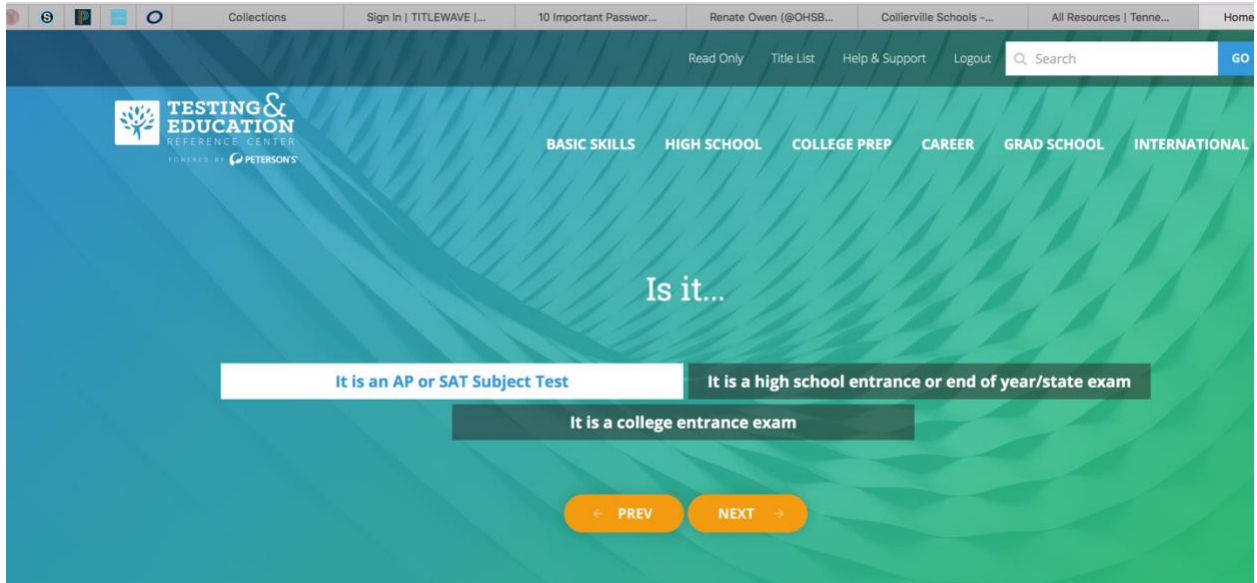

Choose High School and then click on Start.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL terc.neinetsolutions.com. The page features a navigation bar with links for "Read Only", "Title List", "Help & Support", and "Logout", along with a search bar. The main header includes the "TESTING & EDUCATION REFERENCE CENTER" logo, powered by "PETERSON'S", and a menu with categories: "BASIC SKILLS", "HIGH SCHOOL", "COLLEGE PREP", "CAREER", "GRAD SCHOOL", and "INTERNATIONAL". The central heading asks "What type of student are you?". Below this, there is a grid of six buttons: "High School" (selected with a checkmark), "College", "Grad School", "Career", "International", and "Other". An orange "START" button with a right-pointing arrow is positioned at the bottom center.

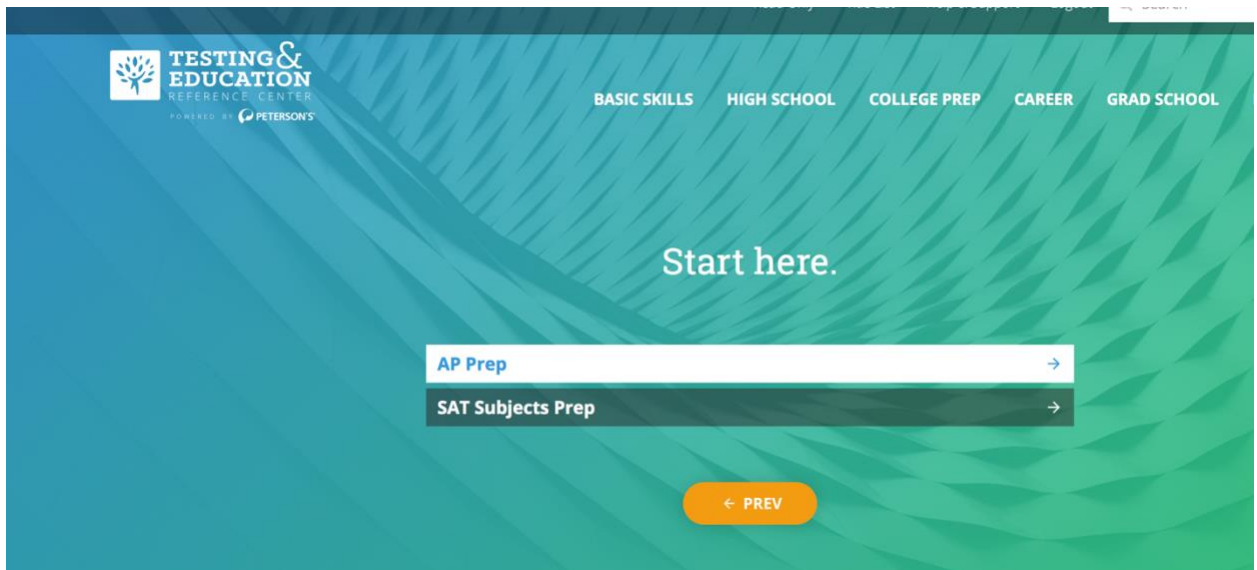

Choose Prepare for a test. Click Next.

This screenshot shows the same website after selecting "High School". The heading now reads "I want to...". Below the heading is a 2x2 grid of buttons: "Prepare for a test." (selected), "Get general basic skills or STEM help.", "Search for a school or scholarship.", and "Prep for a high school equivalency exam.". At the bottom, there are two orange buttons: "PREV" and "NEXT".

Choose AP or Subject Test. Click Next.

Click on AP Prep, which will take you to the next screen.

On the next screen, you will find LOTS of resources. At the top are practice tests, usually 2 per subject. At the right, you will find articles with helpful tips on prepping for an AP test. Be sure to scroll to the bottom for Online Study Guides. You will need to register to access these. There's a screen shot showing this on the next page

To take a practice test, choose the test you want. Here is the screen for AP U.S. Government & Politics.
