COHS students win prize for innovative project idea

Two Coldspring-Oakhurst High School students who are members of the Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) organization were selected as one of ten groups of winners of the 2017 Dallas SAP Social Innovation Series.

Reanna Camden and Hannah Courts won a $1,000 grant for their “Fun Run in the Sun” health and wellness pitch at the AdVenture Capital (AdCap) YOUth Gen competition in Dallas.

The event teamed students with SAP employee volunteers who worked with them to develop innovative yet practical solutions in a variety of markets.

The winning teams have the opportunity to be chosen to win a grand prize that includes the title of SAP Teen Innovator and a meeting with “Shark Tank” co-star Daymond John, CEO/Founder of FUBU.

The girls pitched their idea to a panel of SAP executives in “Shark Tank-style” contest.
