Re: Nutrition Services Bid May 2016 Award Recommendations

Attached you will find our recommendations for awards of the Nutrition Services bids for Milk & Dairy Products and Paper & Cleaning Products for the period July 1, 2016 through June 30, 2017, as well as Food Products for the period July 1 through December 31, 2016.

The award recommendations are generally based on bid price rankings, with the low bidder deemed the winning bidder, and all other things considered equal. Where award recommendations do not strictly follow this low-bid criterion, we have provided respective explanations for the alternative recommendation.

In the case of several items, a bidder was not ranked and is thus not eligible for award. Often this is due to the unranked bidder offering a product other than was specified, though other conditions may lead to this ranking exclusion. When this non-ranking affected an otherwise-winning bid (lowest price, or the next-lowest but also unranked), the non-ranking is explained. When the non-ranking affected a bid that was not the low bid and thus not awardable, no explanation is provided, as the rank omission is inconsequential to the award recommendation. In the interest of transparency, the non-ranked item bids are still listed in the item bids, just not considered for award.

Some items included in the original bid item list are not included in the award recommendations (or more precisely, included with a recommendation of No Award). These items may have been excluded from the recommendations for any number of reasons:

- Discrepancies regarding item specifications
- A determination that Nutrition Services no longer anticipates a need to purchase the item for the stated period
- Other issues problematic to a particular item, but not to the bid process or award recommendations

For each No Award occurrence, an explanation is provided.

The original Invitation to Bid included a section for Bread Products, for the period July 1, 2016 through June 30, 2017. As of the due date and time, we had not received any bids for that section. A regular (and often sole) bidder of this section—Franz Family Bakeries—was contacted to inquire as to their failure to submit a bid; their lack of a bid was a mistake on their part and the company representative simply neglected to submit his bid by the due date. In the absence of submitted bids, the District may choose to conduct another sealed bid for the items or opt for open-market buying of the items, at its discretion. Given that the missing bidder has been the sole bidder on the Bread Products section in the past and is willing to honor their offered pricing for the prescribed period, we deem it in our best interest to enter into an informal agreement with this Franz Bakeries to purchase Bread Products from them. This agreement in no way obligates us to purchase from this vendor solely, or for them to strictly honor the prices as originally offered, or for the duration of the term.

Please advise us if any further explanation is necessary regarding these recommendations or the bid process.

Respectfully,

Sheila Keim
Nutrition Services Director
