Weekly Reading Quiz - Q1:2

1. If a person who believes in superstitions finds a four-leaf clover, what might they think?
   a. They will have bad luck for 7 years.
   b. They will have good luck, but they would have better luck if they hung a horseshoe above their door.
   c. They will have bad luck because finding a four-leaf clover is a superstition for bad luck.
   d. They will have good luck because finding a four-leaf clover is a superstition for good luck.

2. In what country is it considered good luck for a bird to poop on you?
   a. Bulgaria
   b. China
   c. Denmark
   d. India

3. All of the following are considered superstitions for good luck, except:
   a. picking up a penny
   b. getting pooped on by a bird
   c. trimming your nails at night
   d. knocking on wood

4. If you lived in Denmark, how would you feel if your friend threw broken dishes at your house?
   a. angry because there will be a mess to clean up
   b. nervous because it is bad luck to throw broken dishes at a friends’ house
   c. happy because throwing broken dishes at a friends’ house brings good luck
   d. worried because broken dishes are dangerous

5. Read the text, “Superstitions: The Good and the Bad”. How might a person who does believe in superstitions react if they saw a black cat walking towards them on the sidewalk? What might they do? Use examples from the text to support your answer.