Team4255.com

Welcome to Team 4255!

We are so excited you could join us this year! Get ready to jump into an all hands on deck experience unlike any other in the world. Where else can you work with a real-world business model, build and weld and program, all on the same team? Graphic design lovers, you too can find a home here.

First Robotics Competition Info

Team 4255 is part of a larger network of robotics teams in high schools and communities across the globe. Robotics competitions are run by the global organization FIRST, which stands for "For the Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology."

Scholarship Opportunities

Being a part of the robotics team here at Monterey High is eye-catching to many universities, and is sure to connect you to some of the millions of scholarship money available exclusively to FRC students.

Lego League

Do you have a child in middle school, excited about the field of STEM? Feel free to come check out our existing program on Saturdays, from September to November. Be sure to bring snacks for your little one.
