COHS students participate in Country Girls Can Code

Eight Coldspring-Oakhurst High School students recently traveled with sponsor COHS Math teacher Nikki Henderson to Austin to participate in Country Girls Can Code, a day of computer programming skills development and inspiration.

The event is designed to give high school girls from rural communities an opportunity to explore computer science careers and to learn coding techniques from female mentors currently employed in the technology industry.

Located at Mutual Mobile headquarters in downtown Austin, the girls enjoyed a view of the state capitol as they learned the basics of HTML, CSS, and design-thinking. They worked on individual websites using CodePen, an online site for building and showcasing content.

It was an exciting day of learning new opportunities and choices for the future.

The students explored computer science careers and the growing variety of tech jobs available.

Battle of the FFAs benefits SJC senior citizens centers

Support our Coldspring FFA chapter and local senior citizens by bringing in as many canned goods as possible to the COHS office by 3 p.m. this Friday, Feb. 23.

It's all part of the Battle of the FFA's Food Connect

Food Drive, sponsored by the SJC Farm Bureau.

Coldspring vs. Shepherd—who will win? The FFA chapter with the most pounds of cans takes the prize. All proceeds will benefit SJC senior citizens centers.

Battle of the FFA's
Food Connect Food Drive

February 19th thru 23rd

It's that time of year again, our annual Food Connect week food drive competition between Coldspring & Shepherd FFAs. Each FFA group will collect as many can goods as possible to donate to the senior citizens centers thru out the county. Encourage your teams to get out and collect as much as possible. We will weigh in at the Farm Bureau office on Friday February 23rd @ 4pm after school. Friends and family can also drop off can goods at the Farm Bureau office any time during that week. If need be. Good Luck to both teams and lets set a new record.

Poster Contest shows Healthy Soils are Full of Life

Sponsored by the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) and the NACD Auxiliary, this year's poster contest theme was Healthy Soils are Full of Life.

Polk-San Jacinto Texas Soil and Water Conservation District Representative Deborah Forsythe announced the district winners—all from Coldspring Intermediate School. 1st place went to Kara Buchanan, 2nd place went to Hayden Berger and Stormy Williams took 3rd place.

The winning posters will advance to the state level for judging. If chosen at State, they will move on to Nationals in Washington, DC.

Congratulations to Coldspring Intermediate students Kara Buchanan, Hayden Berger, and Stormy Williams for placing 1st, 2nd, and 3rd in the NACD poster contest!
