Under Pennsylvania law, “an abused child means a child under 18 years of age who exhibits evidence of serious physical or mental injury not explained by the available medical history as being accidental,” sexual abuse, or serious physical neglect, if the injury abuse or neglect has been caused by the act or omissions of the child’s welfare, provided, however no child shall be deemed to be physically or mentally abused for the sole reason he or she is in good faith being furnished treatment by spiritual means through prayer alone in accordance with the tenets and practices of a recognized church or religious denomination by a duly accredited practitioner thereof or solely on the grounds of environmental factors which are beyond the control of the person responsible for the child’s welfare such as inadequate housing, furnishings, income, clothing and medical care.
- School Procedure:

IV. Information Specifically for Elementary Employees

CAFETERIA PROCEDURES

ENTRANCE

1. Students are to enter the cafeteria accompanied by their classroom teachers when going directly from the classroom to the cafeteria.
2. Students outdoors first are to be brought indoors approximately 10 minutes before the actual cafeteria period begins by the teachers on duty. They are to deposit their garments in the classroom, line up and proceed to the cafeteria under the supervision of these same teachers.
3. Students should proceed directly to the front tables, sit 12 to a table (6 to a side), until all tables have been filled.
4. Upon cafeteria entrance, all students are to be seated and await their turn to go to the serving area, one table at a time.

TABLE ASSIGNMENTS

1. There are no specific table or seat assignments except that classes are to stay together.

GRADING

The Lakeland Elementary Schools use a letter grade system with the following explanation: Grades 5 and 6 will be assigned the following:

| | | | |
|----|---------|----|--------|
| A+ | 97--100 | C+ | 81--84 |
| A | 93--96 | C | 76--80 |
| B+ | 89--92 | D+ | 73--75 |
| B | 85--88 | D | 70--72 |
| | | F | 0- |
| | | | -69 |

The K-4 report card is issued four times a year. Instead of letter grades, it uses four categories to show your child's progress toward meeting QUARTERLY standard expectations.

- 4: Exceeds Quarterly Expectations
- 3: Meets Quarterly Expectations (This is the goal for all students each quarter)
- 2: Approaching Quarterly Expectations
- 1: Needs support with Quarterly Expectations
- NA: Standard not addressed this quarter. You should expect to see some NAs used in the first two quarters. This is because the entire curriculum cannot be taught at once. While some learning standards will be addressed throughout the entire year, others will be phased in as the school year progresses.

GUIDANCE SERVICES

Guidance services provided include orientations, continuing a cumulative record for each pupil, an organized testing program, individual counseling and group guidance activities. A cumulative record folder which includes, which is maintained from Grades K--12, and passed along from grade to grade, contains such information as school marks, attendance, objective test data and basic family data and specifically 2 career-related artifacts per grade to comply with the Career 339 Plan.

GUIDELINES FOR EFFECTIVE SUPERVISION

The following general sets of guidelines were established to aid the elementary staff in the supervisory process. More specific guidelines as established by each building principal are geared to the individual school in question.

Playground Duty

1. Teachers are to be in the immediate vicinity of the children.
2. Teachers on playground duty who stand and talk together during recess are considered to be not really supervising recess activities, even though they are present on the school grounds. Active supervision is imperative to maintain a safe environment.
3. Teachers are considered by law to be the parents (in loco parentis) of the children under their supervision, and should act in the reasonable way in which parents normally act; children's coats and hats are on and buttoned in cold weather, children are kept out of water or wet fields, and hazards of play and of the playground are looked for and eliminated.
4. Children should always enter and exit the building in lines as supervised by the staff.
5. Once on the playground, students are not to enter the building unless an emergency

- exists. Reason should be exercised where lavatory privileges are requested.
6. All injuries are to be reported by the teachers on duty to the office via the accident report forms.
 7. Children are not to be sent to the office for complaints which can be handled by the duty supervisors.

Bus Duty

1. Teachers are to station themselves as near to buses as possible to aid the students in the loading and unloading process.
2. Children should not be allowed to run to their buses once outdoors.
3. Children should always enter and exit the building in lines as supervised by the staff.
4. Teachers assigned bus duty should exit the building accompanied by their class at the primary bell. Walkers are to be sent to another assigned teacher for supervision until the final dismissal.
5. Teachers are to remain on bus duty until all buses have departed.
6. Kindergarten teachers are responsible for their own bus duty and assisting other teachers until all buses have departed.

Recess Duty in Classrooms

1. Children are allowed to participate in low key games or activities (drawing, coloring, reading, writing, etc.)
2. Children are not permitted to run around the room or carry on in a boisterous manner.
3. Children should not be sent to the lavatory in groups but rather in pairs.
4. At all times, teachers should be aware of who is out of the room and for how long.
5. Teachers supervising two classrooms are to assemble the children into one classroom.
6. Teachers not on duty can help by having assignments ready for the group

HOMEWORK

Homework may be defined as any work planned or approved by the teacher to be completed by the student outside of the regular classroom without the direct and immediate supervision of the teacher. Homework is a very important part of a child's education. To be meaningful, homework should be related to class work. A good assignment stems directly from preceding class work and each student understands the relationship between what he is doing and what has to be done in class.

Purpose of Homework

1. PRACTICE
2. To help learn responsibility.

The Teacher

1. All homework should be checked in a timely fashion, with meaningful feedback provided to students. If feedback is not going to be provided, it should not be assigned.
2. The teacher should notify parents if a student consistently fails to complete homework assignments.
3. The teacher should include as homework those activities which a child can carry on outside the school, but have direct application to the things being studied at school.
4. The teacher should be specific in making homework assignments; students should know what is expected and the task should be within the child's ability.
5. The teacher should ensure that assignments will not require the use of materials which are not available in the home.
6. Major assignments (writing assignments, projects, etc.) should be announced far enough in advance to enable students to plan a sensible time schedule for their overall workload and after school activities.
7. No homework assignment should ever be given as punishment.
8. In the intermediate grades 5-6, homework will be given consideration in determining a student's final grade for each quarter; however, it will count toward a small portion of the overall grade.

PROGRESS REPORTS

Teachers of 5th and 6th grade are to send home progress reports – academic or behavior – to parents any time during the school year as the need arises. Teachers are to fill out the report in duplicate and keep one copy on file in the child's office folder. At any time during the school year when a child's performance drops below their normal level of performance teachers are to send home a progress report to inform the parents of the progress. This should eliminate a parent's response "I was not informed" to a drop in performance as well as to help in properly planning for their child's academic improvement.

PROMOTION POLICY.

Guidelines - Extracted from Board Policy 215

In all cases of retention, the parents/guardians shall be fully involved and informed throughout the process. Parents/Guardians and students shall be informed of the possibility of retention of a student well in advance.

Academic achievement, attitude, effort, work habits, behavior, attendance and other factors related to learning shall be evaluated regularly and communicated to students and parents/guardians.[5]

The district shall utilize multiple measures of academic performance as determinants in promotion and retention decisions.[5]

Progress toward high school graduation shall be based on the student's ability to achieve the established academic standards and pass the required subjects and electives necessary to earn the number of credits mandated by the Board for graduation[6]

RECESS

Recess is considered a very important part of the school day because it provides the students with a much-needed break in the school routine. Teachers are discouraged from keeping children indoors during the recess periods except for disciplinary action, project work or illness. In any case, the teacher must be in the room to supervise the children. Also during inclement weather – rain, muddy playground, or extreme cold – keep the children indoors. Each teacher will be responsible for his or her own class at this time. Only the building principal may cancel recess. Students are not to remain indoors for illness unless an emergency arises or they have presented a note from home indicating illness. Disciplinary action should always be in a manner, which corrects the behavior. No disciplinary action should ever demean or bring attention to a student.

REPORT CARDS

All report card envelopes are to be signed by a parent / guardian and returned to the student's respective homeroom teacher no later than 5 days from distribution.

SCHOOL DAY ELEMENTARY

Teacher Day 8:00 – 3:15

- Teachers requesting to leave the building for any reason, including illness must first check with the building principal and sign out.
- Students are not to be kept after school hours without parent permission and transportation arrangements.

TEACHER OBSERVATIONS

Observations will be conducted throughout the school year. Do keep the following in mind concerning classroom observations:

1. Supervisory visits will be focused upon all elements of the teacher – learning situations, not merely upon the teacher.
2. The chief purpose of supervisory visits is the improvement of learning; they should be inspirational and instructive rather than inspectional and repressive.
3. Supervisory visits should afford each teacher a definite and concrete basis for improvement.
4. The Principal is responsible for the rating of teachers.
5. The Principal's first concern is for the safety, welfare and development of the students; and then for the development of the staff.

6. Teachers should feel free to discuss their problems and to make suggestions.

V. Information Specifically for Jr-Sr High School Employees

ANNOUNCEMENTS

All announcements will be made over the P.A. system during homeroom and at 2:30 p.m. Announcements must be submitted in writing to the main office by 7:30 a.m. for morning announcements and/or 2:00 p.m. for afternoon announcements. All announcements must be approved by a building administrator prior to reading. When an announcement involves a specific organization it should come from the advisor, or approved/signed by the advisor. The intercom phones may be used when reporting students who have been sent to the office or in emergencies.

The paging system will only be used during the school day for emergencies. Calling a last-minute meeting for a club/sport IS NOT an emergency.

ASSEMBLIES

Each homeroom teacher will receive a chart showing the seating arrangements of the students. This should be posted on the bulletin board in homeroom. Teachers are required to accompany their classes to all class meetings and assemblies called during the school day and assist the administration in maintaining order and supervising the students by adhering to the following procedures:

1. Wait for an announcement to be made over the PA system to report to the auditorium.
2. Students will generally be called to assemblies by grade level. Teachers of mixed -grade classes are to escort the entire class to the assembly at one time unless notified otherwise by the administration.
3. Escort your students into the auditorium in order to direct them into the appropriate seating.
4. Sit or stand next in the area assigned for the length of the assembly.
5. If the duration of the assembly is longer than one period, teachers who may have been on their planning period for the beginning of the assembly are to report to the assembly at the end of their scheduled planning time.

ATHLETIC INJURY PROCEDURE

In athletics, injuries will occur even with all the safety precautions and supervision we provide. When they do occur, they must be handled in a responsible and professional manner.

PRECAUTIONS:

1. Ascertain that all participants have had a physical before the first practice. A record of such physical examinations must be on file with the Athletic Director.

2. Insure a parent or guardian has provided permission for the students to participate before he/she practices. A record of such parent permission must be filed with the Athletic Director.
 - a. Insure student school insurance has been provided for.
 - b. Avoid playing overly fatigued or injured players.
 - c. Inform all players to notify you immediately if they are injured.
3. Be certain that supplies frequently used in sports medicine are near at hand during all practice sessions and interscholastic contests.

TREATMENT PROCEDURES:

If a player needs immediate emergency treatment and the school nurse, athletic trainer, or team physician is not present, then the coach should proceed with the most logical action for the welfare of the injured player.

1. Administer first aid if the situation requires it and you are qualified.
2. If transportation to the hospital is necessary and the injury is of the nature that only an ambulance should be used, call the emergency number.
3. Call the parents or guardians.
4. For injuries which do not need immediate emergency treatment call the parent or guardian to see what procedure they wish to be taken.

IN ALL CASES, A SCHOOL ACCIDENT REPORT FORM MUST BE SUBMITTED TO THE BUILDING PRINCIPAL IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE ACCIDENT OR ON THE FOLLOWING SCHOOL DAY.

ATTENDANCE PROCEDURES

Homeroom teachers are responsible to enter daily attendance using the designated computer system prior to the end of homeroom every day. Should a teacher not have access to a computer, a student should be sent to the office with the class absences to be entered by the attendance secretary.

Students who have excuses to leave early must have their note to the office by 8:30 a.m. or give it their homeroom teacher to place in the homeroom folder. Early excuses will be entered into the computer system by the main office. Names of students who have been withdrawn, suspended or excused will be entered on the daily attendance by the main office. Teachers are advised not to read attendance information to their classes. This information is for staff use only!

Teachers must input their attendance into Infinite Campus for each period.

Teachers are to continue to report a student absent from school until officially notified of the student's withdrawal.

AUDIO-VISUAL EQUIPMENT & PROCEDURES

AUDIO-VISUAL EQUIPMENT & PROCEDURES

EQUIPMENT:

Expensive audio/visual equipment is available to all teachers from the Technology Coordinator

PROCEDURES:

1. Teachers can obtain any of this equipment on a short term basis by e-mailing their request to the high school principal at least one week in advance. The form should include the following information:
 - Equipment wanted
 - Date wanted
 - Room where it is to be delivered
 - Any special request such as extension cords, tables, etc.
2. Teachers who wish to sign out equipment, such as overhead projectors, on a long term basis, should email the principal with the same information as listed in Item 1.
3. If you do not know how to operate any equipment, please include this information on your request to the principal and he will arrange with the Technology Coordinator to demonstrate its operation.

4. The Technology Coordinator provides many special services such as videotaping in class, and providing special lighting and audio effects in the auditorium. These services must also be requested by e-mailing the principal at least one week in advance so that they can be coordinated properly.

CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT

Teachers are expected to be master of the classroom at all times. Your class is yours to handle and you must recognize and assume that responsibility. Be on hand when your students arrive and do not leave your room except in an emergency. Invaluable advice for attaining proper discipline are:

1. For each course, every teacher should have a written syllabus. In addition to course description information, this syllabus should include classroom expectations and RULES. Create 5 to 10 simple, clear, enforceable rules for your classroom. Review the syllabus with your students on the first day of class and POST on your class website.
2. Be fair and consistent
3. When “writing- up” a student for a handbook violation you MUST inform that student! A student should never be surprised when called in for a discipline consequence.
4. Communicate with parents when a student is giving you trouble or falling behind academically. It is also a good practice to communicate positive moments with parents.
5. PLAN, PLAN, PLAN. All classes should be well planned and keep students engaged the entire period. Teach “bell- to -bell”. You may want to give independent work/reading time, but remember that you have to be accountable to maintain good student behavior. You should NEVER give full “free periods” or “study periods”.
6. Removing a student from the classroom:
 - a. Removing a student from your room should only occur as an absolute last resort.
 - b. A student should only be removed from class if:
 - i. That student has become violent or has threatened violence toward you, him/herself or other students, or...
 - ii. That student has become verbally abusive toward you or another student, or...
 - iii. That student has become so disruptive that class cannot continue and every attempt at stemming poor classroom behavior has been attempted with no success.
 - c. When removing a student from your class you MUST communicate with the parents as soon as possible after the incident to explain what happened. Document the date, time, and content of this communication and then relay this information to the principals as soon as possible.

- d. IF A STUDENT NEEDS TO BE REMOVED FROM CLASS:
 - i. Call the office and inform the staff member that you are sending a student to the office. Briefly explain why so we are not surprised when a student arrives. DO NOT SIMPLY THROW THEM OUT.
- e. IF A STUDENT NEEDS TO BE REMOVED FROM CLASS:
 - i Call the office and inform the staff member that you are sending a student to the office. Briefly explain why so we are not surprised when a student arrives. DO NOT SIMPLY THROW THEM OUT.

In order to assist the administration with being consistent in enforcing your classroom rules and regulations, a written copy of your rules, regulations, consequences, and grading procedures should be provided to the assistant principal by the first day of school.

CLASS INTERRUPTIONS

Every effort should be made to eliminate class interruptions. Pupils should not be out of class to run errands or for disciplinary measures. It is our responsibility to eliminate every situation or an occasion that may reduce their class time.

Pupils being excused from a class must have a hall pass from the teacher in charge.

If a student requests to leave your class or study hall to report to another teacher, he/she must obtain a pass from that teacher prior to reporting to you. The only exception would be a student seeking Learning Support Services. In this case, you are to contact the LS teacher to inform him/her that the child is requesting to be seen.

Under no circumstances are students to be sent on personal errands.

COMPUTER LAB USE

The computer lab in the library is available to all faculty members and their classes. A scheduling calendar allows a teacher to schedule classes using this technology. Teachers need to contact the principal to make arrangements for their classes who will in turn schedule with the library science teacher.

A teacher using the lab should have defined goals and instructions for their students which are reflected on the lesson plan, and should monitor what each student is doing while in the lab. This will prevent students from gaining access to programs and files which they have no authority to open, and from printing unnecessary and unauthorized material. Before using a printer, the student must ask permission from the teacher. Teachers should insure that the print settings are correct for the program being used to avoid the waste of paper.

A seating chart is mandatory. Each computer has its own internal identification number which is helpful in identifying computer misuse.

CORRIDOR/LAV PASSES

No pupil is to be excused from a room unless he has a Student Corridor/Lav Pass or a pre-printed slip instructing him to come to the office. It should be remembered that using the hall/lav pass is a privilege, not an obligation. Only emergencies should warrant excusing a student from a classroom.

CORRIDOR SUPERVISION

It is imperative that all teachers be at the classroom door during the change of classes. This is the only way in which disorderly conduct can be prevented. If students become boisterous between classes, it will take precious class time to quiet them after the class bell rings. General hall supervision and supervision of restrooms are responsibilities all professionals share. Teachers assigned to an administrative duty (AD) are not to use this time to complete class work, i.e. marking papers, etc. This assignment involves supervision of the lavs and halls to insure that all students in the corridor during class time have the proper pass and do not abuse the privilege.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL PROCEDURES

This procedure will be followed only in those cases where it is necessary for the nurse to go to the student. Remember, when in doubt, do not attempt to move a student or send a student to the office alone. It is better to be safe than sorry. Do not attempt to diagnose injuries or illness – this is the responsibility of the nurse.

In case where the illness or injury is of a minor nature and the student is capable of reporting to the nurse, be sure that a second student accompanies an ill or injured student to the nurse – do not allow any student who has been injured or ill to proceed alone to the nurse. Teachers in the Lakeland School District will complete an accident report form as soon as possible.

Parents should be notified immediately, but tactfully, about a child's sudden illness or serious accident; especially head injuries. If the parent cannot come for the child, the child should be taken home, to a doctor of the parent's choice, or to the hospital by the nurse. If the emergency is grave, there should be no delay in securing medical attention.

GUIDANCE IN THE JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Guidance in the Junior-Senior High School is based upon the needs of the students and the philosophy of our schools. It is a service that can be used by all students in ways which will foster their ultimate growth as individuals. This service is furnished through the principal, the counselors, the school nurse, the homeroom teacher and other faculty members. The close cooperation of all members of the staff is needed to operate the program effectively. Teachers have basic guidance responsibilities. These are evident in their functions of understanding, motivating, and directing the learning of students, in diagnosing difficulties, in handling disciplinary problems, in stimulating interests, in fostering techniques of study, in providing leadership in the homeroom, and in sponsoring extracurricular activities.

GUIDANCE SERVICES

Guidance services provided include orientations, individual counseling, and group activities.

In addition to the guidance services provided by the school, specialists from the N.E. Intermediate Education Unit are scheduled for vision and hearing, and for students evidencing such needs.

At critical times when choices of courses or electives must be made, assistance with educational and vocational planning is carried on through group guidance activities and through individual counseling.

After each marking period a conference is held with students failing a subject. These conferences may be conducted jointly with parents, and/or the teacher or merely between the counselor and the student. An effort is made to analyze the failing situation and make suggestions for improving a student's work.

Sometimes a weekly report is suggested as a way for the student and his parents to know whether he is doing better. This is discontinued when he improves sufficiently.

School policy states that a Progress Report must be submitted quarterly on the designated computer system by the due date provided by the principal. Students failing courses are to receive a progress report sent through the U.S. Mail to their parent or guardian. Counselors will meet students who have a failing grade average.

REFERRALS

Students may be directed to the counselors by their teachers for aid in solving problems. Teachers desiring to make a referral should complete the Guidance Department Observation Sheet available from the counselor.

Counselors will schedule a meeting with referred students. Information furnished by the teachers on the Observation Record Sheet will be invaluable during the conference or if needed in preparing the Request for Psychological Services Form required before a referral is made and psychological testing results will be explained fully to parents.

Before counselors make a referral to the Psychologist, they will consult with the principal, and explain the problem fully and realistically to the student and his parents. Parental permission is required before a referral is made and psychological testing results will be explained fully to parents.

The psychological services offered assist counselors to gain insight into the learning process and the adjustment problems of students. Because of the effect individual differences in personality, home background, and intelligence have on school adjustment, it is important for the counselors to have an accurate assessment of the student while providing guidance services.

OCCUPATIONAL/EDUCATIONAL INFORMATION

The Guidance Department keeps up-to-date vocational information on file. The vocational files are continually being used and expanded.

Up-to-date catalogs on colleges, trade schools, nursing schools, etc. are maintained. Students may examine catalogs in the office or may Sign Out for them if they so desire.

RECORDS

All records on students are to be considered confidential and all professional staff members will keep this confidentiality as a safeguard to the student. The Lakeland School District record policy is in keeping with federal and state regulations regarding the collection and dissemination of student records.

TESTING

Testing at Lakeland is an integral part of the Guidance Program. The District is very generous in the budget allowed for this activity, and we believe we have a testing program suited to our needs. Mental ability, achievement, aptitude testing, and interest inventories are given in a planned program.

Tests, at best however, provide information which must be properly interpreted to be really valuable. Tests are given at Lakeland for the following reasons: To help teachers understand the ability or special interests of a student; to help the Administration in planning and evaluating the curriculum; to help students understand their individual abilities, to assist them in course and subject selection, and in vocational counseling; and to identify pupils who may need specialized instruction.

The results of tests are summarized for faculty and administration use and are made available in the guidance office. Upon request, counselors will review test results with teachers. Whenever possible test results are given to students and parents after a thorough explanation so that they may recognize their academic strengths, weaknesses, and needs.

SUMMARY OF GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT FUNCTIONS

1. Conduct a comprehensive testing program and discuss results with students involved.
2. Have at least one counselor -initiated conference for each student every school year. (Additional conferences resulting from faculty referral, counselor request, or student choice will be arranged).
3. Conduct planned group counseling.
4. Call special conferences with failing students and students who want to drop out of school.
5. Assist all students in planning schedules that will meet their college/career goals.

RESTRICTED MOVEMENT PROCEDURE

The restricted movement procedure will be used for general search and/or in the event of a potential intruder in the school.

- Upon announcement from administration that the school is now in “restricted movement”; all employees will find a secure area immediately, close and lock classrooms, and cover all windows.

- The teachers will immediately notify the main office of any unaccounted for students.
- No students are permitted to leave rooms until restricted movement has ended by announcement.
- No one will be allowed entry to your classroom unless properly identified by administration or legal authorities.
- If evacuation becomes necessary, an announcement will be made. All staff will follow the guidelines for “Fire Drills.”
- Restricted Movement will end by general announcement from the administration.

minimum of once per week, but daily is recommended) in order for the parents to monitor their child's progress.

Teachers are to quarterly submit their progress reports on the grading system as directed by the building administration.
