The Leader in Me™

great happens here

Student-Led Conferences

We are excited to take our next step in the Leader in Me process as a campus. This next step is the implementation of Student-Led Conferences. The largest difference in this type of conference is that your child will take the lead role in communicating what they are learning and experiencing in school.

Below are just a few benefits of Student-Led Conferences:

- Students take responsibility for their academic growth.
- Parents, teachers, and students engage in open and honest dialogue.
- Students learn the skills of reflection and self-evaluation.
- Students develop organizational and oral communication skills.

These conferences are in full swing on campus and it is exciting to see our students talk about their goals and achievements.

Below is what you can expect to take place during your Student-Led Conference:

- Welcome
- Celebrations
- Areas for Growth
- Goal Setting
- Questions

We hope you enjoy the opportunity to see your child's growth firsthand during your student-led conference.
