

RE-ENTRY PROTOCOL

As a community of committed learners and teachers, we want to support our students inside and outside of the classroom to live and learn at their best. We understand that along the way there may be many challenges, perhaps physically and/or emotionally that may sidetrack a student or family in their educational journey such as hospitalization for suicide attempts, severe concussions, experiences with personal or environmental trauma as well as familial suicide experiences and death. When faced with traumatic and difficult circumstances, many of us draw inwards, hold information in private and are reluctant to reach out for help.

LET US HELP. If your student has been away from school for a significant hospitalization, or your family has experienced a significant disruption in functioning because of a trauma, please let your advisor know immediately. We will schedule a CONFIDENTIAL, private conference to help your student and family transition back into school with the appropriate supports, resources and communication your student needs to make a successful and as comfortable transition as possible.

Here are just a few examples of concerns a reentry meeting can address and problem-solve:

Social and peer relations

Transition from the hospital setting

Academic concerns on return to school

Medication

Family concerns (denial, guilt, lack of support, social embarrassment, anxiety, etc.)

Behavior and Attendance Problems

Ongoing support and Resources
