SCHEDULING CLASSES 2018-2019

During the first week of February, students will be deciding on next year's classes to take. All student's have met with their counselor and have updated their Personal Plan of Study draft plan in NAVIANCE online. Parents and students are encouraged to discuss their course selections for next year, and everyone can access NAVIANCE through the RSHA website under "Students —> Naviance College and Career." If a parent does not have access, please contact your student's counselor. All classes and their descriptions can be found at this link: RSHS Classes. Please remember that ALL students must have 24 credits to graduate. More information can be found on the website or talking with your counselor. #GREATPLACETOLEARN

As your student plans for next year's classes, don't forget about dual-credit classes! Dual-credit course taken in high school count for both high school and college credit. RSHS currently offers 18 dual-credit classes for a total of up to 55 credits for college; however, paying for college credit now can save you significant money. Typically, one dual-credit class is worth 3 college credits. Remember that some dual-credit classes have requirements such as minimum ACT scores or tests. Talk to your counselor more about dual-credit options!
