Michelle Waters, special education teacher at Dogwood Elementary, has been named Camdenton School District Teacher of the Week. The love and dedication Michelle has for her students is apparent daily. She does a wonderful job of differentiating instruction as much as possible to the levels of student's skills. She does a great job of communicating with families and genuinely cares about the students she serves. Teacher of the Week is sponsored by Smith Law Firm and recognizes teachers for positive contributions made to the Camdenton students and district.
