This weekly update I want to take the opportunity to share successes that are outside of our school site yet play an integral piece into who we are. All the participating members of the MTSS process at both Galt High School and Liberty Ranch which includes Lisa Pettis, Sonya Powaser, all administrators, counselors, and psychologists; have spent multiple meetings analyzing and assessing individual student reports. During the first semester they often spent time discussing and analyzing data of students that were credit deficient and could possibly benefit from attending Estrellita in the future. The partnership and collaboration that we have created internally to support and understand what Estrellita's mission and capacity is has enabled the positive and effective placement of students into our alternative education systems of support. We at Estrellita are excited to welcome and serve the 15-17 new students that will be enrolled with us next semester. We have confidence that they are the right fit and they have been placed correctly. In everything when we find success we treat it as a window and acknowledge the people responsible for the good work. When there are struggles and areas of growth we look in the mirror and take note of how to do better.

Curriculum & Classroom Updates

Our English and reading curriculum has been varied and consistently engaging. Students have been experiencing poetry with a day of students studying and then delivering their chosen poem out loud in front of their peers. Our students reciting poetry to their peers is no small feat. They will also be preparing to read and study a well known play, "Death of a Salesman". Students will be given a part and the play will be performed in class through a reader's theatre style.
