Little bit about me
I have been a diesel technician since 2007. I graduated from Universal Technical Institute in 2009 and went to work for Salt Lake County Fleet as a Diesel Technician. The position was a temporary position and lasted six months. From there, I worked at Fire Stone until 2010 and then I decided to join the US Army as a track vehicle mechanic. After leaving the Army in 2014, I worked at Intermountain Bobcat for a month or two, and then I had an opportunity to go back to Salt Lake County and work as a full time diesel technician. I worked here until the end of the summer of 2019 when I started teaching diesel classes for the Jordan School District.

Some of my certifications are:

- ASE Master automotive technician
- ASE Master truck equipment technician
- ASE Master medium / heavy truck technician
- ASE Advanced level specialist L1 and L2

Mandatory class fees and required materials & equipment

- $20 Diesel 1 - classroom supplies
- $30 Diesel 2 - classroom supplies
- Face mask - must be worn every day
- Safety glasses Harbor Freight has them for $1.99 up to $5. I would not spend more than $5 because they can get lost or broken but the student needs to have them or they cannot go into the shop.
- Steel toed boots. If the price of the boots is an issue, email me and I will give you information about where to get a discount. These are also needed to be able to be in the shop and to attend job shadows (if applicable).
- Skills USA - $20 (Optional)

Concurrent enrolment fees to be paid directly to SLCC

*These courses are optional

$40 for application fee
$5 per credit hour ($40 total for both courses)
The second semester is 8 diesel credit hours

- DST 1065 - 4 credits
Highly suggested materials and Equipment

- Paper notebook

- Cheap dollar store calculator

Suggested but not required equipment

- Box of rubber gloves
- Welding helmet - Harbor Freight has a good one for $44.99
- Welding gloves - Harbor freight has them from $5.99 to $21.99 I wouldn't spend more than $15 as they are an expendable item
- Coveralls or work clothes that are ok getting dirty

Expectations of the student

- Be to class on time and ready to work in the shop or in the class.
- Maintain a 91% attendance rate. Taking this class is a privilege not a right. Given the current situation, I will work with you on a case-by-case basis if needed.
- Respect will be given to all in the class (guests, students and instructors). I have a zero tolerance policy for racism, sexism or bigotry. Inappropriate remarks towards a person regarding their age, race, sexual orientation, religion or beliefs will not be tolerated and will be reported to the principal for further discipline.

Grades

Grades will be a direct reflection of the students work quality and/or proficiency of the knowledge acquired during the class. I will always be available for help if a student does not understand a concept being covered. I encourage students to ask questions because all too often others will have the same question but may be too afraid to ask.

I hope that covers just about everything. I look forward to seeing you all in the fall and if there are any further questions please feel free to email me at devin.dyer@jordandistrict.org
