

#PZPGH

PROJECT ZERO AT QUAKER VALLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT

APRIL 10, 2017 ~ 8:00 AM - 3:00 PM ~ QUAKER VALLEY

Join us for a day of Learning!

- 8:00 Registration and Light Breakfast
- Tina Blythe - Keynote Speaker
- Breakout sessions that connect concepts to practice
- Catered lunch is included
- Free: Limited seating
- Register by contacting Jeff Evancho - evanchoj@qvsd.org

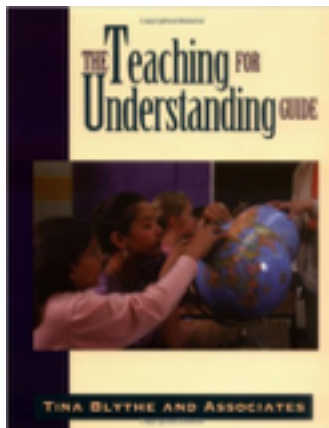

Tina Blythe is the Project Director for Project Zero's online learning collaboration with the Independent Schools of Victoria. She is part of Project Zero's online learning development team, developing, facilitating, and assessing Project Zero online professional development courses. She is also the Education Chair of Project Zero's summer institute, "The Project Zero Classroom," and Lecturer on Education at the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Central to her research and teaching are how to create and sustain learning environments—for students, teachers, and administrators, in both face-to-face and online contexts—that support deep learning, thinking, and understanding. Collaborative inquiry and the collaborative assessment of student and teacher work are key focuses of her work. In addition to her work at Project Zero, Tina serves as education advisor for the Silkroad, an organization founded by cellist Yo-Yo Ma to promote innovation, learning, and cross-cultural understanding through the arts.

Quaker Valley Teacher Presenters:

Erik Lindemann
Ryan Kelly
Jen Stewart
Dana Simile
Tom Forrest
Christine Forrest
Michael Pastor
John Doucette
Andrea Croft
Nina Strelec

Quaker Valley Teacher Presenters Continued:

Heather Doheny
Katie Hanna
Jeff Evancho
Peter Wardrip
Carol Sprinker
Aaron Rea
South Fayette School District

Stephanie DeLuca

Tara Surloff