Emerging Global Leaders

The world is huge and as a result schools, communities, and workplace environments have become complex communities that reflect all cultures. Learning social and leadership skills are crucial for future leaders and to keep the peaceful communities we have now.

Emerging Global Leaders

Emerging young leaders need a higher level of leadership skills, be open to all ideas; understand history and be familiar with global dynamics. This program will focus on the ability to work as a team, to be able to understand details, to respond effectively, and to make friendships.

Emerging Global Leaders

Students in the “Mater Dei Prep Institute for Global Leadership” will master learning the programs and using them correctly. Using leadership skills correctly and understanding how to communicate is a win-win situation. They will be using “MediaScape” to meet new people through out the world.

Emerging Global Leaders

Benefits of offering the program are...

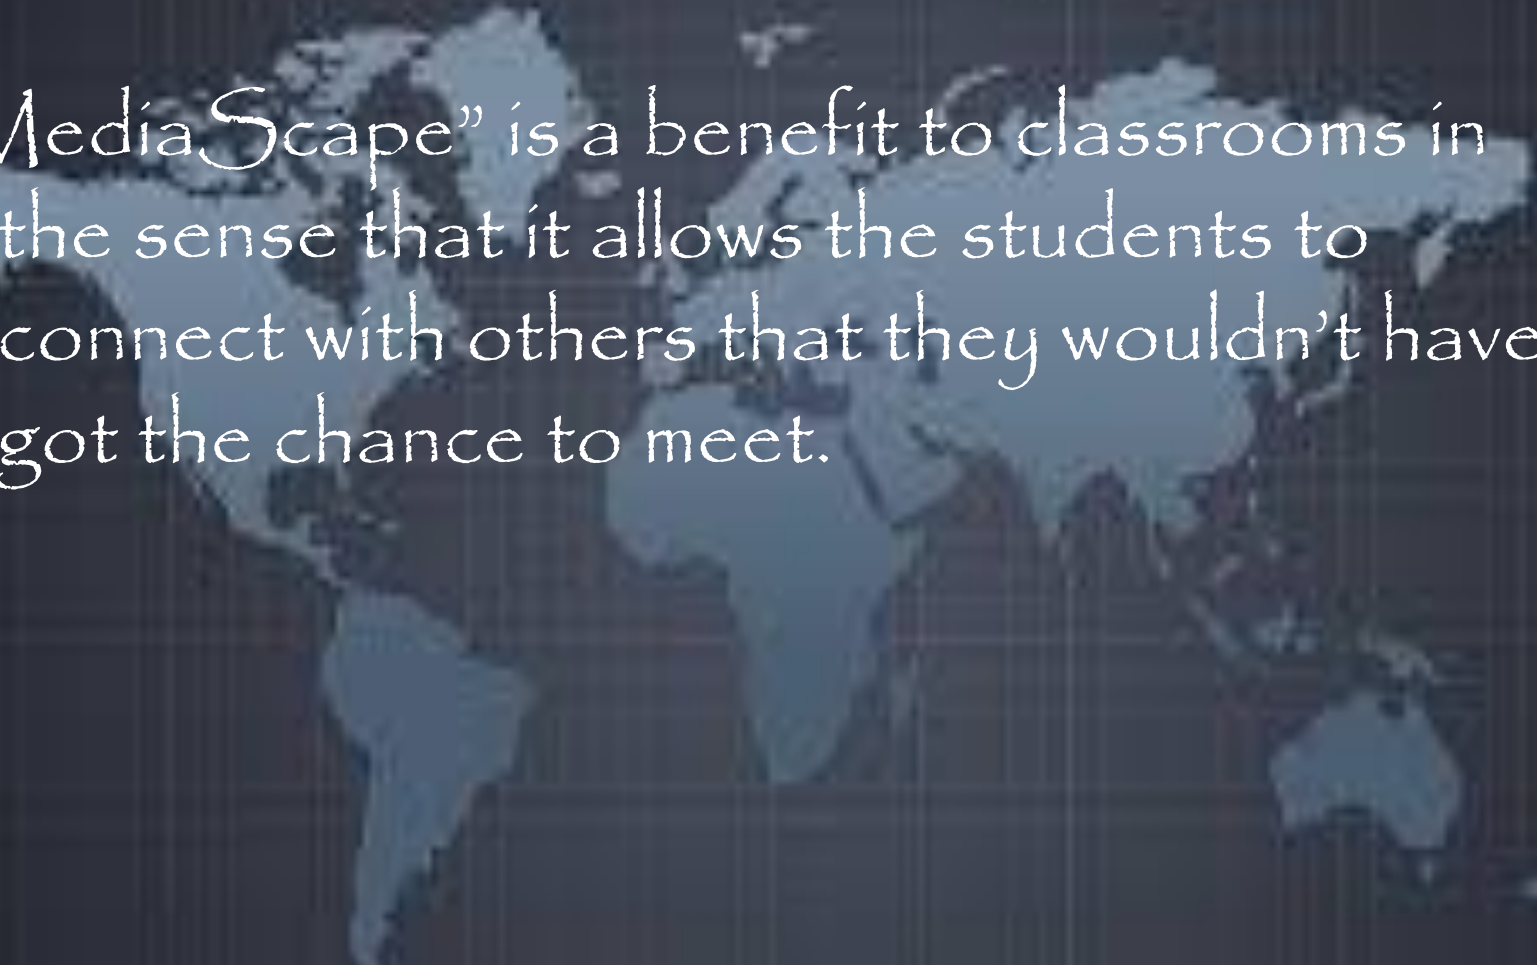

- Developing global skills early
- Creates positive responses in global environments
- Introduces new diverse cultures
- Learning life skills
- Learning Social skills

Emerging Global Leaders

Working with the United Nations, partner organizations, universities, and school districts worldwide help us develop a new group of student leaders at Mater Dei Prep. The goal is to prepare students with the skills and trainings to allow them to succeed in the future and teach others.

Emerging Global Leaders

“MediaScape” is a benefit to classrooms in the sense that it allows the students to connect with others that they wouldn’t have got the chance to meet.

Emerging Global Leaders

In today's close minded environment, educational communities, and communities, leaders want solutions to change that. They use student leaders to start anti violence education and global action. It is a hope that Mater Dei Prep can play a role in providing a group of students trained in the skills of Conflict Resolution and Global Leadership.

Emerging Global Leaders

To become certified in conflict resolution you have to have mastered

- Anti violence leadership skills
- Effective communication strategies
- Mediation principals
- National and international leadership skills-
“Peace building”

Emerging Global Leaders

Programs can be used in area schools, religious buildings or community centers. “The Institution for Global Leadership” would assist student program development with support, services, and additional training were needed.
