Kinder Daily Review Freebie

Peas in a Pod
Thank you for your download!

This is a sample from my larger resource. In the full version, the format repeats several times before a new concept is introduced. Only one new area/concept is introduced at a time while the rest of the worksheet mirrors the format the students have been practicing. Therefore, this morning work should remain a fairly independent activity!

About the author: I started my teaching journey in 2004. I have taught kinder - 8th, thanks to a few combo classes! I've district hopped three times, and that has given me a lot of insight into the needs of various communities and the teachers who work there. Being super dorky has really helped me in the classroom! I'll sing, dance, or do both to refocus my group. They roll with laughter and are ultimately drawn in by my antics. They have no idea they were just fooled into focusing! (Let's keep that our little secret.)
