National Read
Book Day

A graphic for National Read A Book Day. It features a vibrant rainbow arching across a bright blue sky with white clouds. In the foreground, a stack of several open books is shown, with their pages fanning out as if being read. The books are resting on a patch of green grass.

Announcements

Upcoming College Representative Visits

An admissions representative from the University of Iowa will be on Campus Monday, September 9th during Tutorial. Stop by the table outside the Career Center Monday morning to get more information about the programs they offer.

CCR Classes

If you are enrolled in a CCR class this semester, please remember that these extended day classes will become part of your official transcript. If you need to make any changes to your CCR schedule, you must let Mrs. Kraidman know this week.

The PSAT will be administered at West Ranch on Wednesday, October 16th. Registration opens to all juniors on Monday! The cost per exam is $25. Students can pay for the exam on the West Ranch Webstore.

Registration will open to Sophomores on September 23rd and to Freshmen on September 30.

Boston Scientific is looking for 40 students who have a passion for Science, Technology, Engineering and Math to join our Bridge to the Future Program. For 9 years they have invited students who are both interested and passionate about STEM to join our program. Bridge to the Future is a unique opportunity open to African American high school students in the Hart School District. The program runs one Saturday a month from September through April on our campus located in Valencia, CA.

If you are interested in participating or would like to return for another year, see Mrs. Reynoso in the Counseling office to get the application. The application is due by September 11, 2019. If you know someone who would be interested in this program, please share the application with them. All questions regarding the program can be directed to Danielle Meichtry, Program Manager at danielle.meichtry@bsci.com.

Wildcat Wellness Center Next Week! On Monday during lunch Larry Schallert, Director of Mental Health at COC will be speaking about suicide prevention and awareness. Learn more about signs and symptoms to look for and support you can give to a friend who is hurting. Morning Meditation at 8:10 every morning! And yoga at 8:30 on Wednesday. Have a joyful weekend.

 Project 691 Robotics at face value is a robotics team but it's so much more than that at the end of the day. Learn leadership skills, communicate with others, problem solving, working together, helping other teams, reach out to local businesses, and so much more. And don't forget being a part of Project 691 Robotics gives you access to $80 million worth of scholarships. Come on out to their open house this Saturday from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM to room 554 here at the Ranch to learn more about what they do. Parents and Families are welcome to attend as well.

Are you interested in attending a Military Academy?

To learn more about the application and nomination process we highly encourage all those interested to attend students/network Congresswoman Katie Hill's Military Academy Information Session.

Saturday Sept 14th 2:30pm-4:00pm AVC Theater 3041 W. Ave K Lancaster CA 93536

In particular any Seniors who are interested in applying should attend to confirm their application status. The information session is open to all students and any family members who wish to attend.
