March 26, 2020

Dear Parents,

Governor Murphy announced today that he would not be prepared to revisit his decision to reopen New Jersey schools until at least April 17th, at the very earliest. Our schools, therefore, will remain CLOSED to students from Monday, March 30, 2020, through Sunday, April 19, 2020, including all after-school student programming and extracurricular activities, as we continue to implement our distance learning protocols.

To best prepare and be able to respond to our post-Coronavirus reality, when that time arrives, I am moving all unused snow days surrounding Spring Break to Memorial Day weekend. Specifically:

- April 3rd will be moved to May 22nd
- April 14th will be moved to May 21st
- April 15th will be moved to May 26th

By moving these days, our Spring Break will be from Saturday, April 4, 2020 - Monday, April 13, 2020, with distance learning days running through Friday, April 3, 2020 and beginning again on Tuesday, April 14, 2020.

You can expect more communication to follow in the near future as we continue to review and refine our distance learning practices. Until then, may you and your family remain safe and healthy.
