

Processes at TMS

Previous Unit PLC Process at TMS		Current Unit Student Success at Taylor Middle School		Next Unit 2019 - 2020 School Year
Aug	Present Instructional Playbook	The diagram illustrates the relationship between four key components of the current unit. At the center is a large circle containing the text "Supporting students by providing a positive climate and putting the needs of the students first by...". This central circle is connected to three other circles by arrows: "developing" points to a circle on the left containing an illustration of a boy flexing his muscles and the text "PLC Systems and Practices"; "creating" points to a circle on the right containing an illustration of a girl and a boy at a desk and the text "Positive Student Culture"; "enhancing" points to a circle at the bottom containing an illustration of figures holding letters spelling "TEAM" and the text "Staff Culture". The central circle is also labeled "is about" with an arrow pointing to it.
Sept	TMS Playbook Day: Cue Do Review
Oct	Introduce LINCS
Nov	TMS Playbook Day: Student Talk
Dec.	TMS Playbook Day: Technology Integration
Jan.	UO / FRAME Review
Feb.	Introduce Concept Comparison
Mar.	TMS Playbook Day: Write to Learn
April	TMS Playbook Day: Choice
May	Work on Inst. Playbook for next year.

Processes at TMS

